

Band Biography

A lot of metal bands end up as cult hits, with only a small group of people listening to their music. However, this did not stop Asa Badagliacca from trying to found one. As a matter of fact, it encouraged him, because cult stardom is often better than real stardom in the fact that your fans are generally less crazy. Knowing this, he got together two of his friends from his job, and started a band. These two friends were Song Debello and Fausto Hric . The rest, they say, is history.

Member Bios

Asa Badagliacca: (Guitar/Vocals) 30 year old male and founder of Roll a D20. He used to work at Dice Bag, a factory that manufactured polyhedral dice. When he was laid off due to cuts, he chose to start a band instead of just mope around.

Song Debello: (Bass/Vocals) 28 year old female and editor of the fan club newsletter. Song worked at a news company as a editor, and still does. Only now, the job is part time.

Fausto Hric: (Drums/Percussion) 32 year old male and all-around good business person. Mr Hric never really had much a job, as all he did was advise business people on how to manage their finances. He stopped doing this to focus on the band
